

FINAL RESULTS EDITION

PRICE ONE CENT.

The

The

FINAL RESULTS EDITION

PRICE ONE CENT.

"Circulation Books Open to All."

"Circulation Books Open to All."

NEW YORK, THURSDAY, MARCH 15, 1906.

PARKHURST PLOT IS A FAKE; ROGERS HELD IN $50,000 BAIL

KILLS THE PRETTY RIVAL OF HIS WIFE AND THEN HIMSELF

Mrs. Nosser, Locked in Room at Fashionable Pierpont, Hears Shots That End Lives of Husband and Mrs. Young.

A. Louis Nosser, forty years old, a noted Tenderloin figure, blew out the brains of Estelle Young, a handsome young woman, and then killed himself with a bullet through the head from the same revolver in his room, on the ninth floor of the fashionable Pierpont apartments in West Thirty-second street, to-day.

The man's wife, locked in a bathroom a few yards away from the scene of the murder and suicide, heard the shots.

THREE HAD A QUARREL.

Estelle Young came to the Pierpont yesterday, and there was a quarrel between the man, his wife and the woman.

According to Mrs. Ida Morrison, sister of the slain woman, Mrs. Young received a letter yesterday afternoon from Mrs. Nosser, and this letter led to the fatal visit.

Mrs. Nosser was begging Mrs. Young to give up Nosser.

Mrs. Morrison says her sister became enraged at this letter and hurried off to the Nosser apartment, threatening as she went to horsewhip both husband and wife.

A row followed and Nosser drank brandy, but not enough to kill him. Both women, strangely enough, nursed him through the night. To-day there was another quarrel. The wife, swearing to leave, went into a bathroom. Nosser locked her in, ran back to the bedroom, where Mrs. Young still lay in bed, shot her with a revolver and then turned the gun upon himself.

Mrs. Nosser had begun beating upon the bathroom door the moment she heard her husband click the lock on her. Then the two reports banged, with muffled roars, in the front bedroom of the suite.

Escapes Into Hall.

There were two doors in the bathroom. One door—the one Nosser had locked—opened into the suite and the other into a hallway. Suddenly Mrs. Nosser thought of the hall door. She ran into the hall screaming and pounding with her fists upon the locked outer door of the bedroom, where the double tragedy had occurred.

Bertha Murphy, a chambermaid, heard her screams. The Murphy girl came running down the hall and opened the door with a pass key.

Mrs. Young lay on the bed with a ghastly wound in her head. Alongside the bed Nosser had dropped with a .38 calibre revolver still gripped in his stiffening fingers. Both of them were dead.

Was Race Track Owner.

Louis Nosser and his wife, a handsomely dressed couple, came to the

(Continued on Second Page.)

BLAZE IN WILLIAMSBURG.

Three Alarms Sounded for Fire in Unfinished Building.

Three alarms were sounded in Williamsburg to-day when a fire destroyed the two upper floors of a six-story flat-building at No. 165-167 McKibbin street.

The building was in course of construction and the police said that the blaze accidentally started by the builders probably started the blaze accidentally. Owing to the fact that the engines were late on account of snow on the hydrants were frozen, the fire gained considerable headway. The damage done was about $2,000.

William B. Densmore Dead.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., MARCH 15.—William B. Densmore, of New York and Staatsburg, son of the founder of the Adams Express Company, died at his country home in Staatsburg to-day.

FOR SUFFERING FAMILIES. The N. Y. Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor needs $30,000 to help needy families at the right time in the right way. For full particulars, send 10c to N. Y. Assn. for Improving the Condition of the Poor, 100 West 42d st., New York.

ESTELLE YOUNG, KILLED BY SUICIDE NOSSER.

(Photographed by E. F. Foley, New York.)

ANDY HAMILTON ASKS CHANCE TO 'BRAND TRAITORS'

Creates Sensation by Appearing at Insurance Hearing in Albany.

(Special to The Evening World.)

ALBANY, March 15.—Judge Andrew Hamilton appeared in the Assembly Chamber this afternoon and demanded a hearing by the Armstrong Committee. He was not recognized by any person in the room except the correspondent of The Evening World.

"I want you to take a card to Senator Armstrong," he said, "because I have something to say about myself, which I think the committee should hear."

The latter said the moment she heard her husband click the lock on her. Then the two reports banged, with muffled roars, in the front bedroom of the suite.

The latter said the moment she heard her husband click the lock on her. Then the two reports banged, with muffled roars, in the front bedroom of the suite.

The latter said the moment she heard her husband click the lock on her. Then the two reports banged, with muffled roars, in the front bedroom of the suite.

To Show Up Traitors.

"I made up my mind to come here an hour ago. Some people thought I would not. It is not my purpose to tell anything on my friends, even if I had anything to tell, but that will not stop me from giving the committee some information about the trustees of the New York Life, and I intend to do so. I think it about time some of these traitors were shown up."

Hamilton was quite excited and nervous.

When Mr. Woodruff came back he said: "Judge, Senator Armstrong says you can be heard after Mr. McIntosh. Mr. Untermyer was to have talked, but you can be accommodated."

"Thanks," said Judge Hamilton dryly. "But I don't want the life insurance companies to have anything to do with the matter. I want to talk for myself."

By this time, a number of persons in the room came to shake hands with the Judge, among them was John C. McCall, of the New York Life. He took the Judge aside and urged him not to insist on his demand to be heard.

100 N. Y. bartenders have $500 in gold to be paid only to the first caller for Green Glass. Write to Green Glass, 100 West 42d st., New York.

FIELDS LACK CLASS AT FAIR GROUNDS

Evenly Balanced Card Kept Bettors Busy in Their Search for Winners.

(Special to The Evening World.)

FAIR GROUNDS, NEW ORLEANS, March 15.—The entries to-day in every field were selling-platters, so that the fields were well balanced and kept the bettors busy in their search for winners.

FAIR GROUNDS, NEW ORLEANS.

March 15.—The entries to-day in every field were selling-platters, so that the fields were well balanced and kept the bettors busy in their search for winners.

SECOND RACE—Selling six furlongs.

Starters, weights and jockeys. Betting. Str. Pl.

Van Ness, 113, Obert. 2-5 10

Lady Henrietta, 105, L. Smith. 11-5 2-5

Arabo, 109, Robbins. 20 5-2

Curd Gillock, 101, P. Walsh. 40 5

Apples, 100, Livingstone. 30 10

Won by Van Ness; Blackburn was second, and Salvia third. Time—0:51.

THIRD RACE—Selling; one mile and seventy yards.

Starters, weights and jockeys. Betting. Str. Pl.

Van Ness, 113, Obert. 2-5 10

Lady Henrietta, 105, L. Smith. 11-5 2-5

Arabo, 109, Robbins. 20 5-2

LURED BY DECoy LETTER TO J. P. MORGAN'S OFFICE

Friends of Mrs. Ella Barbara Williams, who was arrested yesterday at the entrance to the office of J. Pierpont Morgan & Co., to-day held an indignation meeting at her boarding-house. No financial affairs were at last straightened out only to fall into the trap set

(Special to The Evening World.)

It developed to-day that Mrs. Williams was decoyed to the banking house yesterday. She received a letter from the firm yesterday morning in response to which she started downtown.

FAIR GROUNDS, NEW ORLEANS.

March 15.—The entries to-day in every field were selling-platters, so that the fields were well balanced and kept the bettors busy in their search for winners.

SECOND RACE—Selling six furlongs.

Starters, weights and jockeys. Betting. Str. Pl.

Van Ness, 113, Obert. 2-5 10

Lady Henrietta, 105, L. Smith. 11-5 2-5

Arabo, 109, Robbins. 20 5-2

Curd Gillock, 101, P. Walsh. 40 5

Apples, 100, Livingstone. 30 10

Won by Van Ness; Blackburn was second, and Salvia third. Time—0:51.

THIRD RACE—Selling; one mile and seventy yards.

Starters, weights and jockeys. Betting. Str. Pl.

Van Ness, 113, Obert. 2-5 10

Lady Henrietta, 105, L. Smith. 11-5 2-5

Arabo, 109, Robbins. 20 5-2

CITY IN GRIP OF WORST STORM OF THE SEASON

Predicted Snow Will Continue and Seriously Hamper Traffic.

A TASTE OF WINTER

Imitation in Week of the Anniversary of Great Blizzard of 1888.

With the wind rising, the mercury steadily sliding toward the bottom of the bulb and the blinding snow getting as thick as bonny clabber, the belated winter gale which began before daylight promised late this afternoon to turn into a very creditable counterfeit of the famous blizzard of March, 1888.

Tentative hope of relief from the weather conditions had been held out early to-day, but the approach of evening finds the storm increasing in scope and severity. Already traffic is beginning to tie up. No efforts have been made to clear any streets, for the snow would blow in faster than the scoops-shovels of the diggers could move it. To-morrow is likely to bring a slush of stories of snowbound trains and household commuters. An increase in the suffering is inevitable in view of the falling temperature and the deepening drifts.

It was about 3 o'clock this morning when a young and lusty nor'easter sharpened itself to a keen edge on the top line of Manhattan Island and bored a slit in the bulging big feather-bed clouds in the sky, so that through the gap began dribbling and then pouring and then cascading the great store of down that Old Mother Goose has been plucking from her heavenly flock since away back in December.

On the river the shovel-nosed, two-tailed ferry-boats got confused and went milling around in circles like overgrown mallards. The small ferry shipping—fingerling tugs and towboat minnows—wisely hugged the shores.

Although there was a good deal of drifting railroad trains arrived at Jersey City and Long Island City, and at the Grand Central with tolerable regularity. Elevated trains managed to preserve schedules, although some of the cars suffered from cold feet because of contact with ice-coated rails.

Cyclonic sweepers ran up and down the surface car rigging-way so that the trolleys have done very well considering.

Truck horses slipped and slid and swore horse swear-words. Only the subway, smiling in its underground sleeve, and giving off only smells, was perfectly happy.

At 9 o'clock this morning the thermometer registered 28. By noon it had dropped to 26, and from that time on the air grew steadily colder. At no time was there any rift in the swirling, bewildering curtains of snow.

At 10 o'clock this morning the thermometer registered 26. By noon it had dropped to 24, and from that time on the air grew steadily colder. At no time was there any rift in the swirling, bewildering curtains of snow.

At 11 o'clock this morning the thermometer registered 24. By noon it had dropped to 22, and from that time on the air grew steadily colder. At no time was there any rift in the swirling, bewildering curtains of snow.

At 12 o'clock this morning the thermometer registered 22. By noon it had dropped to 20, and from that time on the air grew steadily colder. At no time was there any rift in the swirling, bewildering curtains of snow.

At 1 o'clock this morning the thermometer registered 20. By noon it had dropped to 18, and from that time on the air grew steadily colder. At no time was there any rift in the swirling, bewildering curtains of snow.

At 2 o'clock this morning the thermometer registered 18. By noon it had dropped to 16, and from that time on the air grew steadily colder. At no time was there any rift in the swirling, bewildering curtains of snow.

At 3 o'clock this morning the thermometer registered 16. By noon it had dropped to 14, and from that time on the air grew steadily colder. At no time was there any rift in the swirling, bewildering curtains of snow.

CONFESSES THAT STORY OF PLAN TO KILL WAS FALSE

Lawrence Rogers, Who Revealed Alleged Plot of the Police, Repudiates the Entire Yarn and Is Arrested on Perjury Charge.

Lawrence Rogers, who "confessed" to Secretary Kelly, of the Citizens' Union, away last fall that he had been promised $500 to kill Dr. Parkhurst, repudiated the confession this afternoon, and is now a prisoner. He said he trumped up the story so that his might keep his job with the Citizen's Union through the winter.

When reminded that he had made affidavit to the truth of his statements Rogers said that he didn't care whether he went to jail or not. As it happened he did go to jail, for in the midst of his examination in court this afternoon he was arrested for perjury and held to the Grand Jury in the sum of $50,000.

SAME OLD CARD AT CITY PARK TRACK

(Special to The Evening World.)

CITY PARK, NEW ORLEANS, March 15.—The same old card was dislaid up to the talent here this afternoon. Its one redeeming feature was that the fields were large and evenly balanced, but class was a stranger in every event.

Of the seven events on the card the third, a handicap, was the best betting medium of the afternoon's sport.

FIRST RACE—Three and a half furlongs.

Starters, weights and jockeys. Betting. Str. Pl.

Tom Dolan, 111, Nicol. 7-5 1-2

Vendito, 111, C. Morris. 2 5-2

Beau Brummel, 111, Trotter. 4 7-5

Gold Bell, 112, Watling. 29 8-5

Belasy, 106, Larsen. 20 7-2

Tom Morgan, 105, D. Austin. 12 6-5

Lady Main, 103, Koerner. 12 5-2

Steele Peggy, 98, W. McIntyre. 12 5-2

Triner, 108, C. Morris. 6-5 2-5

Won by Tom Dolan; Vendito was second and Beau Brummel third.

SECOND RACE—Selling; one and one-half miles.

Starters, weights and jockeys. Betting. Str. Pl.

Bradley's Pet, 101, W. McIntyre. 7-2 1

Little Elkin, 101, Morris. 5 8-5

Gold Bell, 112, Watling. 29 8-5

Hymettus, 107, J. Hennessy. 7 2-5

Parine, 108, Dealy. 12 5-2

Piller, 105, Dealy. 12 5-2

Won by Bradley's Pet; Little Elkin was second and Gold Bell third.

THIRD RACE—Handicap; six furlongs.

Starters, weights and jockeys. Betting. Str. Pl.

Rickey, 112, Nicol. 8-5 1-2

Parine, 108, Dealy. 12 5-2

Nutwood, 96, Swain. 20 2-5

Triner, 108, C. Morris. 7-5 1-2

Time—1:17 3-5.

Won by Rickey; Daring was second and Nutwood third.

FOURTH RACE—Extra (5 to 1); 1 1/2 miles (even for place) 2 Ann Hill 3.

Starters, weights and jockeys. Betting. Str. Pl.

Ann Hill, 111, Nicol. 7-5 1-2

Ann Hill, 111, Nicol. 7-5 1-2

Ann Hill, 111, Nicol. 7-5 1-2

Ann Hill, 111, Nicol. 7-5 1-2

Ann Hill, 111, Nicol. 7-5 1-2

Ann Hill, 111, Nicol. 7-5 1-2

Ann Hill, 111, Nicol. 7-5 1-2

Ann Hill, 111, Nicol. 7-5 1-2

Ann Hill, 111, Nicol. 7-5 1-2

Ann Hill, 111, Nicol. 7-5 1-2

Ann Hill, 111, Nicol. 7-5 1-2

Ann Hill, 111, Nicol. 7-5 1-2

His astonishing repudiation was made to a reporter for The Evening World in the Criminal Courts Building this afternoon. Rogers was there in answer to a subpoena commanding him to appear before Magistrate Wabbe in John Doe proceedings and testify to the alleged facts he had incorporated in his affidavit.

The Same Old "Larry."

As soon as Rogers showed his face he was recognized by the reporters as "Larry" Rogers, once a keeper in Jefferson Market prison, later an elevator man at Police Headquarters and at times a private detective in the employ of the late Charles Heideberg. Those who knew him never considered him a man such as would be picked out to accomplish an assassination.

"How about it, Larry?" asked The Evening World reporter.

"Ah, I was only stringing them," replied Rogers. "I strung them all good. I've held my job with the Citizens' Union all winter and copped out something for expenses besides."

The humorous Mr. Rogers laughed gleefully. He seemed to consider an accusation against two policemen—Sergeant Shields and Patrolman Phelan—of a conspiracy to kill Dr. Parkhurst a good joke.

Wanted to Save His Job.

"You see," explained Rogers, "I was doing some detective work for the Citizens' Union before election. After the election I saw that they wouldn't have any more use for me, so I framed up this assassination yarn and spun it to Secretary Robert J. Kelly."

"Did he bite? Say, he fell all over himself. He wanted to save his nice job, too, and not be sent over to Brooklyn to look after a branch over there. Well, I've strung 'em along—the whole

JUDGE 'ANDY' ATTACKS N. Y. LIFE TRUSTEES

ALBANY, March 15.—"Andy" Hamilton when he appeared before the Albany Committee at the hearing on insurance this evening said:

"It is your duty to remove the trustees of the New York Life on Nov. 15 or before.

"They are curs.

"There was never a thing done in the New York Life in my line about which the officers of that company did not know.

"Year after year there was no objection by these officers to my expenditures without filing vouchers. Theirs was the responsibility. If they did not examine my account then they received me. What is called the Paris Trust was actually passed upon by the Auditing Committee. The Steel Trust dividends were paid to J. P. Morgan & Co. to take up notes which I had accounted. I have no excuse to offer for my transactions. They may talk about the yellow dog. There is a dog in the house and the curs who know of these transactions and are from them are the curs that I have come to talk about."

LATE RESULTS AT FAIR GROUNDS. Duquamps 4-1, Polly Prim out place, Shipwreck. AT CITY PARK. Fish—Bon Mot 3-1, Kleinwood out place, Garnish.